Dear Nicole,

As Chairman of the Board Directors of Mowly.com, I am delighted to inform you that in our last meeting we have decided to create you Lady Nikki, and invite you to be Honorary Member of our virtual global hockey network.

Mowly.com started as a personal site, but unrelated events have turned it into a mass phenomenon in the Spanish speaking hockey world. With more than 1.500 visits a day, Mowly.com is capable of influencing hockey opinion more than any other hockey community or lobby in Spain. Our contributors write their opinion, make criticism and rise attention to issues that the establishment does not care about, but the hockey players do.

In light of the events in the recent days about the comments in your facebook.com site regarding your aim towards the players of the Spanish men's hockey team, we would like to denounce any one who has come against you. We feel that one is free to express himself in whatever way he o she pleases, and the fact that your Olympic Committee has asked you to issue an apology represents an abomination to free speech. In addition to that, and showing how bizarre the situation has become, no Spanish player was aware of the comments until they read it on the online press. Finally, after an exhaust inquiry among our Olympians, not a single one feels offended whatsoever.

For all the above, Lady Nikki, we encourage you to continue expressing yourself in whatever way pleases you, knowing that Mowly.com will always be behind you, backing you against any violation of this fundamental right, that is free speech.

We congratulate you for this nomination and we offer you our help and support for in the case you want to play in Spain and delight us all with your hockey skills.

Sincerely

Mowly
The Chairman of the Board of Mowly.com
